Tuesday, July 6, 2004 - 10:00 AM

These 'Reflections' coming from the world of the Spirit, will answer a certain number of questions raised by our aspirants. It seemed that this had already been said in our Mission and yet, this particular light on topics already covered in our literature will touch hearts sensitive to this speech.

"We do not give these messages in vain. With time, they will hold the place they deserve. In the decades to come, minds will open and quicken the pace; this form of teaching will then no longer be surprising for a majority of our brothers.

"Times change and this movement will keep accelerating. To surprise is not our goal, we must go in the direction of evolution, without fearing unfavourable reactions.

"A spiritual Master is capable of telling what is good for the progress of his followers. From time immemorial novelty has raised questions, and we will not escape the rule, since humans easily delight in a reassuring routine. The Mission is advancing in the field and in hearts—seats of the Divine, in its manifestations—which conceal unsuspected treasures.

"In our way, like elsewhere, minds must open and adapt to a reality that will inevitably surprise them. God, in his infinite kindness, is preparing them for a spectacular advance. Our brothers will find within our Mission elements capable of guiding them and reassuring them. To have a highly elevated living Master is a benefit, which many do not fully realize how important it is.

"Our blessings are with them."

Babuji