Sunday, November 16, 1997 – 10:00 a.m.

(Beginning of meditation.)

My beloved daughter, you are courageous. The examinations are not useless, at least to clarify the situation. We will find a solution; a little patience.

Your spiritual life is rich, that's the main thing. Your heart is full of love; demonstrate it even more. Your road is long and hard, but it is gratifying. You resist valiantly, like a good soldier.

See you soon; I hear your prayers and wish you a little respite.

Be in my love and my blessing.

Babuji