You know, not everything can be said here; our comments must currently remain within acceptable limits. The essential has been sufficiently underlined throughout these messages, so that our aspirants, if they actually want to take the trouble to read us, are motivated. One day we will be able to assess the impact of these messages, when they have perused them. After having been surprised, the most open-minded will be able to benefit from the quintessence of this teaching having a special impact on the psychic centres, with a view to harmonizing them vibrationally. The power of the words is not illusory; it is an important aspect in any esoteric teaching.

"Our brothers, if they do not know it already, must progress in the knowledge of these phenomena, which are not usually mentioned nowadays. In the future, this aspect will need to be further addressed in order to facilitate their comprehension of it.

"The Mission is growing within the framework of this broadening of consciousness that is taking place imperceptibly in the hearts and fostering another position capable of giving them enough support. The work being completed in our way is in line with the tide of history of a humanity having reached a point of no return. Imperatively, it must advance under penalty of being lost.

"We are trying to help our aspirants with all the means we have. They have the essential elements for enabling them to attain the goal; we are seeing to it. Our action in this world is important; the future will tell.

"May all be enlightened and strengthened in their search."
