We are happy, through this means, to be able to express our joy to your Master. This is an auspicious day for humanity thanks to God's grace. By coming to you, I confirm words of this morning's message.

"We solicit your energy once again, but you won't have to regret it. Even if these messages reach our blessed son belatedly, he already feels effects thereof in his heart. You have a privileged role in this matter, since we appear to you to go to him, through an uncommon means.

"His Beloved Master already told him everything; what more could I add which he doesn't know yet?

"We have come a long and constructive way. The Mission is flourishing in spite of all changes it must undergo. Some negative forces manage to manifest themselves; that is part of the life movement.

"In this day, wherever you may be, grace reaches you."

Medium: Is it really you, Lalaji, amid this noise? I am not sure.

"How can you doubt about it; can noise stop us?"
