

Friday, December 22, 2000 - 10:00 AM

It is getting light in your heart; a new life is starting. Forget the past, put down your luggage. Look ahead, the road is cleared. Feel how a perfume of eternity is coming up. Will you seize the opportunity that is given to you to make a big leap forward through time and space? All these remarks may seem strange to you, they resound in you like new sounds.

"Love him; love us, as you do so well. Let the echoes of that melody rock your soul. Let your song go with it and it comes back to us. Let your spirit rise above this world. Isolate yourself in this white paradise where many accents praise the Creator. See that it is easy to connect to this song. We want to lead you to take the steps that would make you see life with different eyes and strengthen you in the face of adversity.

"All is only illusion. All is relative. Forge ahead, forget your disappointments, they are only wind-raised waves, an incessant breath of wind, which leaves no trace. We have said it enough: only Love counts, it is worth its place."

Babuji