Friday, April 13, 2001 - 10:00 AM

When a situation cannot be changed, it should be borne philosophically. These people who talk a lot of nonsense are badly informed and above all, are being dishonest. Do not be sad, my daughter. We know how much the Mission is close to your heart, but in this case, what more can we do? Stupidity leads to the worst excesses of which Sahaj Marg is currently bearing the brunt. That country is disconcerting; it has no spiritual maturity and that cannot be forced.

"Nothing prevents you from continuing your personal work. You cannot be dispossessed of your progress in love and faith in what you are doing. That will not affect your progress. Be careful not to judge, to set about some of your brothers by accusing them of causing this national state of mind.

"The roots of the evil are especially external to the Mission. The evil is profound; it is about a sapping action which has its source in an ideology of which you do not even suspect the power. This evil must completely manifest itself so that it can be overcome. It is such a sad society where the extreme must necessarily take place in order to eradicate the evil. Pray for these unscrupulous beings who are breaking those that do not resemble them, to achieve their ends."

Babuji