

Saturday, August 25, 2001 - 10:00 AM

My dear son,

"Your call is heeded. We are closer than ever through the heart and the action that you are carrying out for us, and for yourself, since it corresponds to the reason for this incarnation among human beings. You made this choice; you came to help them, by providing them, through the development of the Mission in the world, with a possible means for them, to grow spiritually with the help of a simple system, accessible to each one, on the condition that they so want.

"My son, this mountain you are crossing every day in yourself, in the silence of your heart, heavy with worries generated by your mission here below, saves a choice place for you on another mountain, a sacred one, where your place is reserved next to us.

"Rejoice at this prospect, put daily worries into perspective; this burden that loads your shoulders, we carry it with you, even though this is not visible to your human eyes.

"Every step leads you toward an exceptional destiny. This confraternity of Masters of light wherein your place is already fixed awaits the end of this mandate that binds you to the world of illusions.

"Don't lose heart! My son, focus your eyes on the final and sacred objective. Your Revered Master is close to you; you have his love and respect for what you are and what you do.

"Be at peace and blessed, my dear son."

Babuji Maharaj