Friday, September 13, 2002 - 10:00 AM

To make my son happy, that is what I would like to do all the time by being permanently by his side. To some extent, it is the case, although the physical presence is not there.

"A high level spiritual Master's life is not easy, contrary to what most of our candidates believe. Just like common mortals, he comes up against the vagaries of this life on Earth. He has, moreover, this huge responsibility, which weighs heavily on his shoulders. He achieves his task with great competence at all levels. We can only rejoice for his action, it is exemplary. He largely contributes to providing to our Mission the final statute, which will put it into its own orbit.

"He is a wise man, endowed with a great talent as an organizer and a good many other qualities, which largely benefit it. Our wishes and our love always accompany him. We surround and comfort him in our way, which cannot save him weariness and worries, which are the peculiar characteristics of this life on Earth.

"We are arranging a luminous future for him, which will quickly make him forget the whole burden, which overpowers him. We would like celestial voices to ring in his ears and especially in his heart which we particularly cherish and let him know how much he is dear to ours."

Babuji