My son drains himself of strength for the divine service, which he accomplishes with all possible energy to satisfy us. He is deeply marking the Mission, which, according to his wishes, expands over the world and more particularly in India, the solid foundation of any spirituality. In the same way, it will shine forth over Earth from this point of light, which cannot be concealed. So was it decided: humanity needs this refreshing wave, which unites human beings rather than dividing them with ideas of hatred and violence. Our system carries a message, each one holds the truth in his own heart; it is enough to seek it and discover it using a simple non-demanding method, which liberates man from the blinkers of the ignorance voluntarily maintained since centuries for purposes of domination.

"The Master in place is doing a mammoth cleaning work, which is redeeming and full of benefits for each one of our fellow abhyasis and well beyond. All benefit from this manna offered to them.

"Our way will be universally acknowledged out of necessity over times when evolution must accelerate on Earth. This acceleration is envisaged in the framework of the new era usually mentioned by men though they actually do not know what it is all about. This world must be regenerated, in a way to transform its image and reveal its original beauty which was concealed by the dreadful image it acquired over the centuries."
