

Sunday, June 8, 2003 - 10:00 AM

You sometimes take these messages under difficult conditions that require big efforts of concentration. If it is the case today, then try to find in yourself the necessary calm and we will be able to proceed. Do not dwell on considerations such as: 'I don't measure up.' They are irrelevant here.

"One does not say: 'It is easy to criticize but difficult to do.' Taking thousands of messages like you do requires having gifts not common to most of the human beings in the current cycle of evolution. Let us stick to facts. These messages exist and they will be recognized in due time, without being affected by this kind of objection. What must be, will be.

"We admittedly repeat ourselves throughout these texts, as anyway our remarks are insufficiently applied. By constantly coming back to the same topics in different ways, we hope to touch on something close to the reader's heart and let a true awakening emerge from him. Therefore, see in these many repetitions our eagerness to put you in conditions that are the most conducive to working with the essential support and blessing from your Master.

"There are so many things to do, and we want you to get the best of them. Each one of you must strive to obtain the plus that can put you in optimal conditions to achieve the targeted goal of this spiritual process. To foster it, nothing is superfluous. You should all consider any event of our Mission as a reason to feel satisfied in terms of meeting your inner appeal and making you progress."

Babuji