We have more than one way of appearing to this beloved son. We follow him throughout the days and his existence on this Earth is valuable to us in many respects. By appearing to him in this way, we show him another facet of our love and our interest for his action.

"Sahaj Marg has taken India as its chosen country. That country has always been the noblest place for the blooming of the spiritual life, in a spirit of openness that does not exist elsewhere. That country is blessed and after gigantic upheavals have occurred, it will remain a land of welcome and resuscitation for souls in distress.

"This fact is important. It must be underlined and prepared. Light of this country will keep on shining after chaos has destroyed many other countries that pretend to be headlights because of their economic power. These arguments have little value compared to the Eternal Divine Power orchestrating the great movement of the planetary elements. Spirituality, in the immense country of India, is the best ferment for changes to come, which must transform this world. We have already stated that quite often.

"Spirituality is the great hope for the future. Human constructions, even the most wonderful, will not resist time; only God's power will prevail on Earth, far from this civilization devoid of common sense, and which will sink into complete oblivion, like many of the others before it."
