We are delighted by the love you have developed for your Master. A meeting with him will complete this masterpiece. Your heart is willing to listen to ours unreservedly, which facilitates the work.

"My son would like to develop a more focused communication on issues close to his heart. We must therefore progress on this and make sure that our comments are not restrained by any reservation and doubts concerning your capacity. We manoeuvre prudently with you, my dear daughter; your great sensitivity makes it possible for all your gifts to be expressed. However, it also requires us to be somewhat careful not to unsettle you. Given your health, what you manage to do is appreciable. You are not in the best conditions in terms of calm and peace of mind in a troublesome neighbourhood. A solution will need to be found in the interest of your wellbeing. Remain confident, spare yourself and continue to meet with us, in this heart to heart which is extended towards our beloved son.

"We bless you, my daughter."
