Keep the secret door open on to the garden; it enables our contact. What will result from it today? Your heart needs comfort, and it will find it here. May it find in the following lines, which content is not known to it, the means to motivate itself again.

"Your Master acts on increasingly subtle levels; his action transforms the hearts and prepares them for the inner journey they have to make. Our way has a particular feature: it performs a cleaning which cannot be measured at the human level, but which is of the greatest importance for men's good. They are not capable of realizing what happens in them and yet the appeal for a big mutation whose process has started is in the making. This prospect fills us with joy. All great souls are working towards it, and they completely put themselves into this big project that requires all possible efforts.

"Humanity is about to reach a critical moment of its history. Everything can change radically towards one direction or another. The divine power will ultimately decide. We come back to such matters with insistence; they are not cheerful but minds should be prepared for this new kind of journey, providing souls with ranges of options according to their degree of elevation. We follow the progress of our abhyasis who practise fervently. They are placed into good orbit; their perseverance will attend to the rest. They have a Master; it is the great chance of their lifetime. They made this choice and they stick to it. Many have been following us for many years; this perseverance works in their favour. We are delighted with it; they have every hope of success and our blessings lie with them."
