We possess the key to your heart: your gifts offered to us and reserved for the most important thing, i.e., these contacts. Nothing else can interfere or pollute the channel; we see to it. Your fears concerning the content of these messages are unfounded. You do not restrain our remarks whatsoever; they are the reflection of what we inspire in you. Others cannot easily understand what being such a high level medium means, but do not worry, all is well as it is.

"My son likes these writings; he significantly benefits from them. By reading them he can feel through them, the expression of our love and how much we appreciate his work for our Mission. As it expands, he has to be faced with many more problems of a material and spiritual nature concerning the establishment of competent people in charge, capable of representing him at all levels. In spite of these administrative preoccupations, shall we say, the Mission is advancing, and it lays its foundations, in spite of everything.

"The spiritual work transcends difficulties related to human relations. It operates and does not dwell on the reactions of these ones or the others, though inevitable and consequently minor in most cases.

"We look ahead for our way, which is gaining ground. Our aspirants do not have a clear understanding of its essence. They see and feel it at face value; they cannot realize the work that is being done within them. How could they? They benefit from it by divine grace. It is suitable for the present day and will symbolize future times in terms of their highly spiritual aspects."
