Wednesday, September 3, 2003 - 10:00 AM

Rest for some time, my child. You need it after the difficult period that you have just gone through. Prepare your heart for our next contacts. Think of your Master, and accompany him in his voyage towards France. All thoughts of love and fervour are beneficial to him. We are by his side more than ever--he, our so much chosen ambassador on this Earth. Forward these few lines to him, he will feel through them all our excitement to appear to him in the happy context which interests us here."

Babuji