We have almost attained our objective in terms of actually bringing together your Master and you. It was not easy to obtain this result, which still requires some adjustments. All is clear from now on: he knows about your activities, another important point having lastly been introduced to him. He is proceeding with the discovery of another insight into his own personality as per our wishes. His action at other levels is manifold, but everything cannot be revealed to him; he must assume his heavy responsibility in this world, which is more than enough for him. His knowing of his many capabilities would become for him too difficult to cope with, in the present state of affairs.

"At his level of evolution, an incarnate Master possesses a potential, which he does not explore himself as it is too varied. When he has rejoined us, all the truth will be revealed to him. He will be in the heart of an action concerted with the higher authorities, whose extent will amaze him at the outset. He will quickly retrieve his prerogatives by positioning himself at the acquired level. As he himself has underlined, the incarnate being moves from one discovery to the next one in due time. His high level of realization places him at a level where all is possible, within the acceptable limits of the balance of the physical body.

"He is very active on Earth, but not only there. It is a feature of his character that the supreme forces exploit very frequently. Venerate your Master as is proper, my child."
