You can see how it is good to plunge into oneself, to possess the key to this hidden treasure! What is left of all human hassles, which have to be faced in one's daily life? Having recourse to it is a supreme grace; happy are those who reach that stage of sadhana through their practice and nobility of heart. They possess an exceptional power protecting them from the bad twists of fate, from which nobody is spared. It enables them to surmount them and to progress more and more, while putting into perspective what is not to their liking in their living environment. Each one has a tailor-made life, shall we say; not accepting it results in regressing. With time, our aspirants understand that surrender is an essential aspect to their process. Surpassing oneself, rising above one's status, whatever it is, is a sign of wisdom.

"To love, to surrender with greatest confidence in the Master, makes it possible to put things into perspective and to face up to many painful situations. The human being is faced with the following choice: to accept and progress, or stagnate and brood over negative thoughts harming its evolution. To find in oneself the way to the divine love, to devote oneself every day to these inner contacts with the inner Master and to consequently get an increased stature and get stronger in the face of life, these are rare blessings. How many human beings reach this wisdom? The number is growing, but the way to it is long. In our own way, we help them, and we give them all the necessary essential elements. May they benefit from them fully; we bless them all."
