

Friday, December 12, 2003 - 10:00 AM

My son too must not overexert himself. Your ways differ, but they are enlightening in their own way. He is doing a tremendous work for the Mission, and will remain the great 'builder' of it. His working capacity is rare. It takes place at all levels, and he himself does not assess its entire scope. As he told you: you will see him again, it is bound to happen. He must look further into this issue of messages, while discovering ignored aspects of his many resources that come out beyond his human and spiritual perceptions, however very much developed they may be. A spiritual Master of his level has many implications at higher levels of consciousness, hence the importance of his action on Earth. He is a powerful beacon whose light is not visible to the naked eye, but which touches the hearts in the depths of their divine nature.

"We are happy to see him growing and developing ad infinitum. We love him, but is there a need to mention it? He is our chosen son and we surround him in our own way, without being able to save him from the difficulties inherent in this world. We cover him literally with our love and our blessings. We will leave it at that. We are imposing on you, my child, but we know that your receiving this message concerning your Master, gives you joy. You should rest."

Babuji