My daughter,

"You offer to us total availability of heart and mind, which permits daily and fruitful contacts. A working life would not make them possible; this fact is to be considered as far as the difficult aspects of what you must experience are concerned.

"The division of roles is not made randomly: each one follows one's itinerary as planned. The most modest of these roles is important in the great divine plans, hence the necessity for one to accept, with wisdom, that which one is assigned. This example is illustrated perfectly within our Mission; a thorough study shows that all have a considerable place in it; jealousy arising here and there is therefore stupid.

"We will not come back to the human weaknesses; the purpose of our work also is to help them in all the manifestations of life. Our brothers are confronted unceasingly to egotistic reactions; their spiritual practice must help them in their career, by lessening them as much as possible. Self-control cannot be obtained easily; we all underwent these assaults by human nature in terms of its negative aspects. The reign of a holiness well established among men will not happen in a hurry. Our way offers assets making it possible to go into this direction, together with constant efforts aimed at achieving concrete results.

"Life on Earth is very complex; a study of it carried out outside its context reveals its own flaws. Our efforts as seen from here may seem ridiculous; they however conform to the foreseen line, in view of the evolution of humanity towards a definitely higher level. It will reach that point that is wanted and divine will shall be achieved, we keep repeating it. May faith in it be strongly established on Earth, changing its destiny definitively."
