My daughter,

"We have come a very long way together, through your acceptance to meet our various requests. Only love guides you and gives you this obstinacy to serve us. We have covered almost all that can be said about the spiritual development of beings. We repeat ourselves and it is normal to do so; it is the principle of a teaching in spiral, allowing us to broaden the scope of the comments from page to page. By reading them, our aspirants will find an inspiration supporting their progress.

"My son appreciates the contents of it and it is up to him to decide on the place these writings must hold in our way. He is the Master chosen by us, and he is inspired accordingly. All that is said, made and written in our Mission constitutes its very essence, and support the spiritual work done on all levels. It managed to find its place exactly and to belong to the movements capable of helping men to find themselves spiritually. In a sense, it evolves with them, meeting the needs of present and future times.

"It should not remain stuck in the time warp of its starting point; life and beings evolve, and our teaching must be furthered to follow the trend and even to be ahead of it. Work is carried out in our way at the level of the heart; the future will highlight the soundness of this principle and the subtlety it offers in the various phases of the built-in step-by-step progress. We wish the best for our aspirants and we will continue to forge ahead in this progress towards the Absolute, by helping them in all possible ways."
