Let your heart become imbued with subtle fragrances coming towards you. Be connected to the force mentioned previously in our comments and which link together, in a vibratory way, the hearts within our Mission. It constitutes this égrégore which we refer to, as being its characteristic. Our movement is different from the others, each one of them having its hallmark 'personifying' it to some extent. This force grows, supported by the higher authorities fostering its extension on Earth. Our aspirants must be aware of this established fact, their work and their faith in our Mission being essential.

"Our brothers and sisters start realizing that they are not isolated in this world and have not engaged in a futureless system. It is spreading at its own pace, by refining hearts, to introduce them into an upward and redeeming movement, not being restricted to what it is on Earth. The living Master assumes these heavy responsibilities of unifying hearts, through a special work that characterizes the subtleties of our way. It was not given in vain. With hindsight, we can see its effects and they are very encouraging.

"Currently, and according to men's appreciation, the Mission is young, but the principle of this work is not a new one, it is only given again to humanity at a time due for it, thus contributing to its accomplishment. According to some of our brothers, nothing visible is taking place. They should be reassured, the results of their work is not recorded on a board, at least, not as they understand it.

"By and large, our aspirants trust us, and they completely engage in a fruitful action which will delight them beyond their expectations one day. May they all be blessed!"
