Whispers from The Brighter World

My child,

"You know where from and how you can rejuvenate yourself. A hundred times have we shown you the way, balmy with sweet scents. Your heart delights in them, carried away by this ascending current, it merges into the multitude, thirsting for grace, without ever tiring of it. The call of the Divine is powerful, who can resist it?

"Our remarks constantly bring us back to love. It is the driving force of creation, the divine particle existing in each one, making the life-spark connecting him to the Creator fly. May your heart calm down while only seeing the beautiful and forgetting in these moments of intense communion, all that weighs heavy on it in life. Remember: 'all is nothing, God is everything.' More than ever you should remain in this spirit, surrendered to the divine forces governing your destiny. We support you and we love you, what else can we say!

"Be more and more connected to your Master; let him mould your heart, as we wish. Love him, merge us in the same impulse of gratitude and joy, with a delighted heart, thus all is well."
