Sunday, April 19, 1998 - 10:30 a.m.

Mahasamadhi of Babuji

(During meditation, I express all my love to Babuji, in a picturesque way. He comes and tells me:)

I heard you, my daughter, you will always manage to touch me. Write! Yes, I am here, my child, your nice declarations touch me. I believe I already told you all about your health problems. Remain confident and surrendered. Your heart is in a state of serenity and beautiful light, which is not the case for many beings that are physically very fit. You are well placed to know that patience is a great power. Human judgements about you and their incomprehension of your difficulties don't matter. We know—this is what matters. I will come back for my birthday. You will both receive my attention and my blessings. Meditate more and better."

Babuji