Friday, January 21, 2000 - 11:00 AM

It was not easy for me to consider you as a 'Master.' You were above all, a spouse and head of the family. Released from the human body, which limits the understanding of things, I see you in all your spiritual beauty.

"I am happy to have shared the life of such a being. Thanks to our Beloved and to you, this incarnation was so rich.

"You are the pivot of this vast enterprise that became the Mission. Your Fathers appreciate the work that you are accomplishing; it is quite along the lines of what they wish.

"You should further relieve yourself of what can be passed off. As it has been told to you, surround yourself with educated and noble-hearted men, who can help you while remaining in humility and not going beyond limits of their function.

"As far as possible, we will keep in touch through this means by calling upon the services of our 'scribe,' as the Beloved Babuji Maharaj calls her.

"To you, with all my love,"

Sulochana