You have the greatest wealth which man could have: faith, love and especially a spiritual Master. This asset cannot fluctuate; no matter what may happen, it influences the path of a soul going towards its higher destiny. Don't forget especially these remarks rightly repeated many times.

"The difficulty in living can make one lose sight of the essentials. Reality is there: an incarnation is only a short step in a process where each one is offered the opportunity to be fulfilled as a spiritual and divine being in one's most subtle essence. Our way provides the means of helping men to this end. On no account, has it domineering designs on them—it is important to underline this. They will come towards us in increasingly large number; it is in the nature of things.

"May our Mission grow in strength and wisdom, by helping the greatest number, under our ceaseless blessings."
