Wednesday, October 13, 2004 - 10:00 AM

Your heart, little by little, has let itself be conquered by this unique love to which only a high level spiritual Master can inspire. The formula is abstract and it is revealed only to souls having matured under the divine lights. A long process has brought you to him, thus was its achievement a grace that only time made it become aware of.

"All do not react in the same way; each one is left to one's own appreciation until the moment when the progress made makes it possible to quicken the pace. Having reached that stage, the aspirant is projected into another spiritual universe. After initial approaches, it is advisable to strengthen this process. All is set up naturally; the aspirations of the heart motivate the abhyasi who on his own, engages more deeply in his practice.

"Souls thirsting for the Divine find by themselves the source capable of refreshing them. All, for them, was planned like that. It is not common on Earth to meet one's Master, especially when He belongs to a high level of realization. This rare opportunity is to be considered as is proper; these blessed souls will continue swarming for a very long time, thanks to their ardour in practising and the example they will set. Yes, all has its raison d'être particularly in this area where nothing is lost, or done without reason. To venerate one's spiritual Master is to become aware of one's reason to exist in this world, by serving a great cause, parallel to one's personal process. Thus all is well.

"Our blessings accompany the searcher in this magic and inspired circle."

Babuji