This collection of 'reflections' will revert to most of the topics dealt with in the whole set of messages. We will go into some important points in greater depth. You would like us to go further in the 'revelation,' but this is not our objective. We have gone to the main thing. You can read specialized books that could satisfy your intellect.

"Our interest in this context is you. We want to make you become aware of your own reality, of what you must do for your own conquest. Towards that end, nothing is useless.

"If you take the trouble to read these messages, it means that you deeply aspire to advance and your open-mindedness is sufficient not to put you off. If you adhere to what we say, this reading will inevitably make you progress.

"The good way is not in appealing revelations, the description of the worlds of the beyond and the complexity of creation. You can find all that in a certain literature. Our wish is that you make this saying yours: 'know thyself.' Go deep into the least folds of your own being, keep a check on yourself, improve and sanctify yourself. There is the secret: that is the objective to attain."
