Wednesday, December 20, 2000 - 10:00 AM

Everyday, we put different rhythms into these messages. To catch your attention, as men and women caught in the turbulences of the modern life, we vary the tonalities by tackling various topics, albeit all geared towards the same perspectives. We should access your hearts so that you devote your time to us. Are your hearts ready to listen? Can they leave aside their a priori assumptions and fully pay attention to us? It is up to you to decide on that.

"We use this means to reach you in another way. You can be surprised by it, but why would we disregard this opportunity whereby we can be heard through a medium? If you accept the principle, a special teaching is then at your disposal. It echoes teachings emanating from a living Master as well as the many books in our bibliography. We can, in this way, make a slightly different voice heard. "

"May it touch you in your depths."

Babuji