Monday, April 7, 2003 - 10:00 AM

The word 'emergence' has a special meaning, which for the occasion can be written as a subtitle to the 'Reflections.' Each one of you may sense it differently, by looking at these messages from another perspective. Our way is getting into a development phase, the coming years will make it known and valued as appropriate.

'The world is changing, and it will keep on doing so in relation to the varied turbulence that will seriously shake it. Many human beings will take a new look at themselves, as they will be disconcerted by facts beyond their control, which they will helplessly undergo. In the future, true values should become meaningful to them. May this hope come true!

"Let us continue to work to this end and to bring to our brothers and sisters a desirable equilibrium in this disorientated world through their commitment and regular practice. Our way will help make sure that it opens up to the divine light by emerging little by little from the darkness in which it is stagnating, and opening out in another dimension. This century will foster its complete transformation. Will it succeed? The effort is worth it. The divine power will come out as appropriate. We necessarily work towards the liberation of willing-hearted men."

Babuji