Whispers from The Brighter World

By enlarging the vision of your life on Earth to what it is in reality, it takes on another meaning. All is justified; the acceptance of what it holds for you is consequently facilitated. The spiritual practice is necessarily more obvious. It strengthens the being as a whole. Our brothers and sisters, as a whole, are making progress in terms of spiritual maturity, thus showing the effectiveness of our way. They feel more concerned, more refined in their understanding.

"They become aware of the work being carried on in the Mission; it is being structured in many countries, holding little by little its due place. That is how the future is being prepared, intriguing men in many respects.

"They can only follow the way already mapped out for them, by finding their inner balance through their spiritual process. Isn't it the best means to unify the hearts and the people! The golden age will be perhaps the reflection of a wiser humanity, finally turned towards true values. The higher powers are working to this end: all men are equal before God and must behave as such. All is a matter of adjustment in terms of the vibrations that animate them.

"This principle is far from being understood on Earth, in the current state of its evolution. These concepts are neither exploited nor admitted as is proper. And yet, man will end up understanding where the key to this enigma is, thus fostering his spiritual elevation.

"Let us work towards this evolution; time is pressing, humanity is in danger in many respects. What will emerge from this cesspool will be strengthened and enlightened."
