Whispers from The Brighter World

Tuesday, November 2, 2004 - 10:00 AM

Your heart aspires to beauty and purity. You know the path to this kingdom; it is within you, protected from the toughness of a material world where the worst instincts are given free rein. To have discovered this refuge reinvigorates you, and thus helps you to face up to things on many occasions. Yes, this kingdom exists; it has to be conquered after a hard-fought struggle. Natural aptitudes foster this work, but the main things remain to be done, which we are doing within our way.

"An inspired soul finds its own path. It is the case with our aspirants coming to us, guided towards what befits them in this current cycle determining for an evolving humanity. Thus all is being set up. This extraordinary offensive is in the offing and yet men continue to live in the same way, scorning nature as well as many principles of life, without even realizing it, as they are caught in servile habits. A general awareness would be imperative; it will take place at the appropriate time.

"By repeating ourselves tirelessly, we wish to help our brothers, to sensitize them to realities, which have escaped them until now. For many human beings, the awakening will be rude, they cannot imagine to what extent.

"To warn our brothers is also to encourage them to take stock of their current life and what they would like it to be, in the absolute clarity fostering intensely their spiritual quest. Thus is our dearest wish, for all."
