Protect yourself from negative energies. Interiorize yourself and rejoin us in the heart of silence where you can find your real self. Your profound being has become refined; thousand torments brought it to the feet of Divinity where your Master awaited it. There, a process could start which would change your life, since a role was waiting for you there. Each one has his own role, that's how it is in this world where all is codified, in spite of an apparent anarchy. It is also deceptive, as it is related to phenomena surpassing human understanding. The only reality lies in perfect fusion with the Divine, a power not identified on Earth.

"May the blessed time come when men will in priority respect the divine laws, and consequently their fellow creatures without exception. All is done to that end, so slowly that the results cannot be seen by the most experienced person; hence the urgent need for trust and surrender on the part of our brothers.

"Humans are completely overtaken [by events]. Whatever their knowledge, how could they seize intellectually, that which cannot be translated into this vibratory context? Here lies the barrier between the levels of consciousness, appearing and disappearing as easily as an image on a movie screen.

"A completely alleged knowledge was established on Earth, on which is based the current civilization which is mistaken in every respect. It must go on until the end of its cycle, [in order] to set out again on new bases; that's how it is, everything is programmed."
