Wednesday, February 7, 2001 - 4:30 PM

We cannot abuse our medium's strength. What is important is that you can communicate with your Divine Master.

"How I would like to still be close to you, with the state of mind that I now have! I would understand you better, and because of that, I could help you more, but that is how it is. My time on Earth was complete and you must continue alone as planned. Be reassured, you do all that is necessary and you cannot resolve everything. What you must undergo as regards the settlement of this endless succession, you would not want it to be inflicted on your successor. This is very commendable of you. If keeping arrangements that you already made can ease your mind, do not hesitate to do so.

"Time will sort out this matter and free you from this worry. Do not worry for the future; that is what your Beloved entrusted me to tell you.

"With my indissoluble love,"

Sulochana