We have already told you that you must meditate as much as possible so that a certain work can be made easily on you. It aims to allow a kind of harmonization between my son and you. Things are not simple between you both; there are resistances to defeat, so you also, on your side, make an effort to facilitate our action.

"Forget the past. Consider yourself as a new being, beginning to write the first page of their history; a completely blank page, where unknown signs will be written down, which you will be able to decipher through the heart. It is about a long and ancient history and you will find your marks while advancing in his footsteps.

"Your real identity must be revealed and must lay bare a new being. Don't have any concern. Remain in surrender. The divine will must come true, so it is."
