Sunday, December 10, 2000 - 10:00 AM

Save yourself the trouble of being sad. Beautiful though that meditation hall of Augerans might be, those are mere walls. Its soul is elsewhere; you can find it wherever you like, when your own soul is present there. What we have put will be transferred to other places, since human stupidity forces us to do so. Events of this kind will not mark the history of Sahaj Marg. See yourself advancing on a luminous way free of obstacles, following a guide with a great wisdom, who is also often overwhelmed by problems which he would have preferred to do without.

"One should be very lucky. Being the elected guide of a way, which will make its own mark in history, is no easy task. Only his Masters' approval can actually support him. Who, amongst men, understands him? He gives rise to human love without its true personality being grasped. Matters on Earth are not easy to manage; only grace can overcome difficulties which seem insurmountable.

"See only the goal to reach and not the thorns that lie here and there on the road. Face yourself, in front of this challenge, i.e., the success of your own life at all levels, of which the culmination is a perfect and total meeting with the Ultimate."

Babuji