Our laws cannot be easily understood by men. We don't deal with earthly matters in your way. Once again, my daughter, don't let doubt overcome you. Your channelling ability is not at issue in this matter. You must adapt to our comments and formulas, whose actual meaning you cannot understand.

"Do not go by statements that can mislead you. They are meant to be decoded by my son, therefore, don't let yourself get emotionally involved in the business hazard of the Mission. They are sorted out according to the rhythm of life, taking into account the perpetual human play—changing and quite unreliable.

"We must consider all possibilities and wait and see how things turn out while trying to favourably influence them. There are miracles, but there is no permanent miracle. Life on Earth has its own rules, which no one can escape. Such ups and downs cannot fail to happen in the Mission history.

"Sooner or later that ashram will see the light of day; it is in the nature of things."
