Thursday, December 17 1992 - 9:30 p.m.

(Messages intended for Jean-Michel whose departure to India is disturbed by strikes. Following Jean-Michel's phone call asking whether I had a communication to be conveyed to him, I called Babuji.)

Don't worry, in spite of these hitches, everything will go off smoothly for him. These are the tribulations of life. This trip will make him stronger, having exorcized his hindering fears as his desire to visit Master is stronger."

Babuji

Friday, December 18, 1992 - 11:45 a.m.

Don't worry; he has gone. Don't you rely on me? Did you believe that I would leave him stranded?"

Babuji

December 1992

(During Jean-Michel and Claire's visit at the Grande Motte, a convalescent home after a surgery.
After a personal message for Jean-Michel, [Babuji expressed] his sadness concerning the poor practice of the 9:00 p.m. Prayer.)

This Prayer is not known and loved as it should; [yet] it is so important."

Babuji