Saturday, May 31, 1997 - 10:15 a.m.

(For Lorrain.)

Tell him that I am pleased with him; he is making progress. His stay in India has been very beneficial for him.

'This country softens the souls that are ready.

'He will need to return here; his parents will need him. One's parents must be given assistance; it is imperative, even if his plans are thus thwarted.

'He has my blessing."

Babuji

June 1997

(Regrets because of what is taking place at the ashram, and more so, because of things that are not done.)

Be patient, J.C.B. will leave."

Babuji

(Dismissal in August 1997, departure from Montpellier in August 1998.)

Sunday, July 13, 1997 - 10:40 a.m.

My child, you know well that I do not forsake you. All your physical and moral sufferings are recorded.

"Go in peace, relax, we watch over you, we love you. Have a good journey, for your appointment with Dr. Lang.

"Blessings."

(Doubts, questioning!!!)

"There you go again! Remember what happened with Jacqueline in Augerans.

"What to do with you?

"Read page 47 of my book."

The Medium: "Which one, Babuji?"

"That which you prefer."

Babuji

(His autobiography, volume two-French edition.)