Sunday, November 16, 1997 - 10:00 a.m.

(At the beginning of a meditation.)

My beloved daughter, you are courageous. The examinations are not useless, at least to clarify the situation. We will find a solution; be a little patient.

"Your spiritual life is enlightening, that's the main thing. Your heart is full of love; express it even more. Your road is long and hard, but it is gratifying. You are resisting valiantly like a good soldier.

"See you soon; I can hear your prayers and I wish you to have some rest.

"Remain in my love and my blessing. You will be happy."

Babuji