Sunday, April 4, 1999 - 10:00 a.m.

Easter

his beautiful Christian feast has become by and large a pagan feast. It should be considered with respect. See it as the beginning of a period of revival, where you leave your habits behind you and where you try to set out again on good bases, in your daily life, by giving a choice place to spirituality. It is not a one-day effort. May spring, this explosion of nature, witness the same work in you. Let a beautiful mystical impulse flower in your soul and see it with the passing days being strengthened in the same way as the bud becomes a flower and then a fruit.

"Think of the book, Fruit of the Tree, written by my son. Let it inspire you in this period when nature is getting a new lease of life. Create in yourself new habits which will strengthen your will power and will earn you a kind of armour to get off to a good start towards the goal to be reached."

Babuji