Tuesday, April 13, 1999 - 10:00 a.m.

The Medium: "Babuji, was I not mistaken about my preferred saint?"

No, she is a great and noble soul. There is a bond between you and her; you love each other. You will not know more about this. You are a privileged person as I already told you. It is this burning flame in you that attracts and retains; only love can do that. From top down on the universal ladder, it is like blood flowing in our veins, without it, there would be no life! When divine nature overrides human nature, it is the apotheosis. This is where love leads to."

Babuji