Raise your thought above your small life and rejoice. See the beneficial waves of love being propagated from Master's heart across the Earth, like a stone thrown into water produces circular ripples, which grow larger and larger and move away very far from the starting point. Likewise an important spiritual work yields waves, which go very far on the surface of the Earth. It is like a refreshing shower, which will not change men in a definitive way, but they will feel relieved and strengthened. These are moments of grace, which allow men to get a new lease of life.

"Whatever is good for humanity cannot be lost; it is a small step towards its evolution."
