Try to get out of your sadness. Can't you be delighted by what is taking place? Isn't this more important than everything else? We know that you are able to distance yourself and appreciate 'the event' fully. You know that you are part of me, therefore be happy, my child. My heart is carried away by joy. The progress made by the Mission is beyond my hopes. It is considerable; it is a social phenomenon at the Earthly level. For us, it is in the order of things, the divine order more exactly.

"Do you feel joy welling up in you? Read this message with your friends now. It carries hope, and they will feel it. Meditate, be blessed, let the best of your being exult."

The Medium: "Beloved Babuji, you are my sun!"

"Do not shy away; write it down."
