Beloved daughter and disciple, what else to ask for? Be happy, show it.

"Why always hide your joy of serving us, of loving us? Didn't I say and write enough how much I loved my Revered Master? What is wrong in this? You think that showing one's feelings is not good. To love divinized beings is a great grace. You can love completely, unrestrainedly; it is the most beautiful thing in the world. Be like pure-hearted little children at your Master's feet. Surrendered to his love, he will shape your soul, he will make of you torches that will illuminate the world. Rejoice in thinking of this prospect.

"A day will come when, holding each other by the hand, you will form a large chain around the world. Your mission will be completed and your life too. Work unremittingly for that, that's the meaning of being our associates. It is a grace for you to be part of it, do not forget it. You are in a situation, you live it, therefore, become aware of its importance. Do everything possible to become active abhyasis, conscious of what you are really experiencing."
