Sunday, July 11, 1999 - 8:00 a.m.

Yes, my daughter, you will meet again all these beings of light that had guided your life; you love them and you venerate them. You are faithful in love."

The Medium: "How wouldn't I be like that, Babuji? I have received so much from these wonderful beings until the moment when I met you again. They continue to manifest themselves in certain circumstances; I'm grateful to them."

"It is one of your qualities, it is important; it is the intelligence of the heart."

The Medium: "Babuji, my heart overflows with love for all that these Masters gave me until I came towards you, my Beloved."

"I always followed you; I had to wait for Sahaj Marg to reach you so that we could meet again. Taste this moment of grace. Our two hearts vibrate in unison in the divine energy; you are receiving in this moment what is not commonplace on the Earth."

The Medium: "Yes, my Beloved, these moments must be earned here below. But it's such a happiness to feel so close to you; it is a true 'heart to heart'."

"You see how convenient this kind of communication is; if we were face to face in flesh and bone, would we speak so freely? I doubt it."

The Medium: "My gratitude and my love for you are boundless."

"When you come to rejoin us in a world where the entire vibration is love, you will then live what you foresee today. Let your heart, in each one of its particles, expand and open up to the Divine."

The Medium: "Babuji, I have never tasted such happiness!"

"Benefit from this state, try to keep it in you today, without letting in any interference; our two hearts are only as one. Your friends, who are privileged to reread what you have written, to correct it if necessary, are lucky, they benefit from very precious spin-offs."

The Medium: "Thousand times, thank you for all, Babuji."

"We bestow special blessings on you throughout this day."

Babuji