Your Master, also, is pushing ahead towards the goal we wish both of you to reach, i.e. a true communication which will be beneficial to all. It was not easy to convince you, but with time, we have managed. He is obviously in utmost humility to admit this process, which is frustrating for him. That is how things are, there is no need to dwell on that; he is the Master, you are a medium and he is not. At first sight the situation is not comfortable, but that does not matter, since through this means, we can send him written messages, which he can reread as he pleases. Our contacts with him on other planes do not provide him the same possibility; it is another way of communicating with him. Our dedicated translators and the modern means at your disposal make things easier. You both will get accustomed to this situation and you will end up finding it natural. Thus, all will become even easier. You will record his request better and better as well as the answer we will give you. Divested of your doubts and fear of not satisfying us, you will become a first-rate messenger. You have to get used to it, my dear daughter, you did not ask anything, but we chose you. Be blessed; continue to love us and serve us."
