Whispers from The Brighter World

A Fourth Revelation

Sunday, March 19, 2000 - 10:00 a.m.

hen we say one should be able to turn a page of one's life, this is not a mere metaphor. You must truly make your own assessment, with rigour, and then start again on a new basis, without looking back. You cannot change anything in the past, but you can build the future with solid materials that you choose according to your true goals.

"There comes a moment in the sadhana when it is necessary to make a clean sweep and to know well what you want, so that at the crossroads there is no possible hesitation. If you are really convinced of the importance of your process, it must be given first priority by putting aside anything that does not seem equally important.

"You must give it its true place according to what has priority in your eyes. Be well aware of this aspect of things."
