A Third Revelation

Faith – this is the most powerful driving force ever. It is what urges you to read these lines. It is your thirst for progress that makes you come to this source and quench it. Does it suit you, does this teaching touch the right chord, and does it make you grow richer? That's the question. If you are among our aspirants, you understood where your life's priorities lie. These messages are an addition to our teaching. Our way is simple and effective, as you already know. You are practising and you can assess the change being brought about in you, thanks also to your perseverance. To have an ideal, in spirituality, increases tenfold the forces that urge you to act. This incarnation can be decisive if you really want it so. It is up to you to make the choice that must propel you to the highest level. You chose the right guide; it is up to you to follow him with zeal and determination. We do not enlist you by force in this way of knowledge; your success depends on your profound aspiration. Do your best, you are mature and responsible people. You know where you want to go, so we will do everything to help you. You have our blessings."
