Whispers from The Brighter World
A Third Revelation

Thursday, July 26, 2001 - 8:00 a.m.

The mysteries of creation are not revealed to men. Some knowledge is given to help them in their progress. Evolution is taking place very slowly on the planet as a whole – a highly diverse breeding ground for experiences. Knowledge is given sparingly, so as not to jeopardise a precarious balance. The Earth is nearing a transitional moment, which is expected to be an important turning point from where a new turn will be made for its development and course. This new cycle could change man very profoundly in his molecular structures, which would enable him to evolve more easily in various environments and elements constituting this planet.

"Man is currently limited in his space; he cannot easily escape from his prevailing environment. This mutation will occur under cover of climatic changes resulting from telluric upheavals, which in turn will prompt chain reactions in Creation. Man will have to adjust and hence change, to survive and to adapt himself. These events will change completely the face of the world from what it is currently."
