Whatever can make my son happy touches me, you know it. The good way is found to reach him easily.

"Krishna gives him satisfactions. He discovers his own spiritual possibilities, which his father's role concealed from him a little until now. It is a very beautiful soul that gives, and will give, a lot to the Mission in the future when he has the opportunity to show his real dimension.

"Parents believe they know their children, and one day, they veritably discover them, which is not always pleasant. With regard to my son, his progeny is worthy; it is a grace. He entrusted them to us and he has good reason for rejoicing at them. It is a comfort for someone to be able to trust his children. That is not granted to everybody.

"Be in surrender while facing all situations. Try! Train yourself to do this exercise. It is 'profitable.'

"Our blessings are on you, may they comfort you."
